Montevideo, 27th.

I desire to call your attention to a series of articles appearing in the Dia entitled "In defence of human life," which are a translation of the articles written by the editor of the Montevideo Times in reply to a series of articles by Dr. Palomeque, the lawyer, who defended Carvalho, who killed the traffic manager of the Central Uruguay Railway, because the latter refused him a certificate. Palomeque not satisfied with obtaining the acquittal of his client, Carvalho, used a brief article in the Times as a peg on which to hang nearly six metres of the columns of the Dia praising the superiority of the criminal jurisprudence of Uruguay over that of England and a general defence of assassination; an article which may very likely procure him many future clients at the expense of foreign, especially English, lives. The editor of the Times undertook to answer these articles at the general request of the English community which felt its individual security threatened by the "quasi" incitement to murder contained in Palomeque's article. After appearing in the Times, the editor, by request, translated them into Spanish for the Dia. The editor of the Times is not a jurisconsult like Palomeque but his articles are based on common sense and decency and he deserves the thanks of the whole British community on both sides of the Plate for the time, trouble and labor he has given to his meritorious work.

The officers of the recently arrived U. S. S. Castine are devotees of the bicycle, they have brought eleven bicycles with them. Even those who do not know how to ride have brought machines.

Athletic sports are going ahead tremendously. We are inundated with notices of all sorts of matches and games; foot ball at Punta Carretas has attracted the natives and there is always a large attendance; fives are played at a court which has been built at Peñarol and I now see posted up a notice of a game of hockey to take place at the cricket ground on 1st. May.

Mr. Macdonald, representative of Pearson and Sons, for the construction of the Montevidean port, made an involuntary trip to your city on Saturday with his Secretary Mr. Ranzel. They had gone on board the Venus to see some friends off and before they knew it the steamer was off. There was no decent steamer back on Sunday so they had to go three days in the same shirts with all their luggage in their pockets.

Quasi Revolution in Athens.

Vienna, 27th—Judging from the preparations of the Army Staff, the autumn manœuvres of the Austrian army this year will be on a larger scale than usual. They will be held near Totis, in Hungary, and the Emperors of Austria and Germany will attend them.

St. Petersburg, 27th—Emperor Francis Joseph arrived here this morning. The Czar and several high personages met him at the railway station and the populace heartily cheered both monarchs.

Rome, 27th—The Chambers will reopen on May 4th. Many of the Senators and Deputies who had already arrived in town went to the Quirinal to-day to congratulate King Humbert on his recent escape from assassination.

Athens, 27th—The evacuation of Trikala by the Greeks has been confirmed. The Chamber of Deputies has been summoned to an extraordinary session to-night, to consider several important measures contemplated by the Government. Several leaders of the opposition, the Presidents and Vice Presidents of the Chambers, have just been summoned to the Royal Palace, to hear the views of the King and the Cabinet Ministers.

St. Petersburg, 27th—The leading papers here give the Emperor of Austria and his Chancellor a very warm welcome, and hope that his visit will draw closer the relations between the two countries and lead to a definite arrangement between them of the Eastern Question.

London, 27th—In the Commons to-day the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, stated that the majority of the Powers are of opinion that the Greek troops should be the first to evacuate Crete, and that they will intimate this to King George.

Constantinople, 27th—Telegrams from Athens say that it is thought there now that King George will not put himself at the head of the army in the field. The Crown Prince Constantine will remain with the army, but without any command. The Greek Government has abandoned the idea of invading Epirus.

London, 27th—Government has decided to purchase horses in the Argentine Republic for British cavalry. It is thought that 8,000 animals will be bought by the Commission of officers who left Southampton in the Danube on the 16th for Buenos Ayres. The greater part of these horses are to be sent to the Cape, for the artillery and cavalry regiments which are now being sent to South Africa. In the event of war, supplies of meat will be purchased likewise in the Argentine Republic.

Deptford, 27th— 750 Argentine steers were sold to-day at 40 to 43 pence, and 3,600 wethers at 50 to 52 pence per stone.

London, 27th—Argentine Frozen meat is quoted 23 to 24 pence per stone, mutton, and 34 beef.

London, 27th—Again the rumor is afloat that the Powers will interfere to stop the war.

The Greek fleet threatens to bombard Salonica.

Paris, 27th—The papers consider King George's position to be extremely critical. Everything will depend on the attitude of the Patriotic League, who are leaning at this moment towards the popular wish for a change of Government.

Salonica, 27—Osman Pasha has decided to remove the headquarters from Elassona to Kasaclar, which is considered to be the more advantageous position.

Constantinople, 27—Telegrams just received state the Turks have repeatedly defeated the forces under Colonel Manos, near Janina.

Athens, 27th—The Deputies did not meet to-night in sufficient number to form a quorum; but will meet to-morrow.

Paris, 27th—It is announced from Greece that public opinion there is in favour of carrying on the war to the bitter end, as the spirit of the troops on the plains of Pharsalia is still unsubdued, and the change of commanders has given them fresh spirit and has also revived the hopes of the public.

Argentine Republic.

(Received after Midnight.)

Paris, 27th—News has arrived from Greece that the Press of that country continues to incite the people and the Government to continue the war with vigour. The despatches add, however, that the funds of the Greek Government are almost exhausted and that it is very improbable that the war will be continued.

Larissa, 27th—Order reigns here just as it does in Turnavo. The Ottoman troops occupying these Cities observe the most perfect discipline and scrupulously respect the property of the inhabitants. Patrols are regularly to be seen in the streets, sent purposely to prevent any attempt to destroy or rob property.

Athens, 27th (11.30 p.m.)—A band of 500 volunteers seized to-night, in the military depots, a quantity of rifles and ammunition, and are now marching through the streets uttering warlike cries. Several Deputies have harangued them, congratulating them on their patriotism, but counselling them to remain calm. Great excitement is prevalent amongst the populace, and all sorts of rumours are current.

The troops have been, since last night, kept rigorously in their barracks.

Athens, 27th, (10 p.m.)—It is known that it was Colonel Rallis, Chief of the Headquarter-staff, who demanded the dismissal of Prince Constantine from the command of the Greek armies in the field and that he threatened to resign should no attention be made to his representations. It is also asserted that it was General Garibaldi who subsequently recommended the Government to appoint Col, Smolenitz, the Minister of War, to succeed the Crown Prince. It is added that Garibaldi has also counselled the recapture at any cost of the positions recently lost in Thessalia abandoning for the present all operations in Epirus.

THE DUAL ALLIANCE.

There is something positively comical in all the balderdash wafted to us by electric wires as echoes of the feasts in Santiago de Chile in honour of Brazil. As our readers are aware, a brand-new Chilian squadron, from Armstrong's, Newcastle-on-Tyne, will arrive on Thursday at Rio de Janeiro en route for the West Coast. As is etiquette on such occasions, the Brazilian Government, with invariable courtesy, have made grand preparations to welcome the visitors to the Fluminense capital. The programme of festivities is even on a grander scale than when three Argentine cruisers visited Rio not long ago. We all know with what éclat and with what popular delight Rio de Janeiro organises such displays—splendour is thoroughly Brazilian. When the Chilian Government heard of these preparations they thought it befitting to organise a grand procession in honour of the Brazilian Envoy in Santiago, followed up by a banquet and gala performance at the fashionable theatre in that capital. Chilians, though not enthusiastic by nature, and having little or nothing in common with Brazil, nevertheless answered the invitation of their Government "en masse," and the amicable ovation to Brazil came off with great popular participation. It is, however, comical to note that the Chilian Government by some mistake, some mishap, had the festivities organised before the Chilian squadron arrived at Rio, and hence the necessity of repeating the programme of last Sunday in Santiago to keep time with the giddy Fluminenses, who on these occasions stop all business to do honour to their guests.

So far, so good; but it appears from the telegrams we have received from Santiago de Chile that, apart from the usual features of international etiquette and courtesy, our Chilian friends attach a far deeper purpose to these displays of sympathy from one country to another. At the official banquet or luncheon in Santiago the speakers in their post-prandial excitement talked of the Dual Alliance between Chile and Brazil as a guarantee of peace on this continent. This was not incidentally mentioned, it was the "leit motif" of nearly all the speeches, and is, therefore, significant. It is very comical to hear of such twaddle on this continent; these South American States cannot mind their own affairs—neither in politics nor in finances—yet they play at the game of Talleyrands and Metternichs. We suppose that there must be some foundation to this "haute politique" of our Transandine neighbours; and, looking at the matter seriously, Chilians are either afraid of the growth of Argentina or are intent on attacking her. There can be no other satisfactory explanation of the systematic intriguing of the West Coast in all the South American Republics. As we watch the game that is going on now in Santiago, Rio, Montevideo, Sucre and other capitals, we cannot help smiling at these diplomatic efforts to isolate poor Argentina, who threatens nobody and only asks to live and thrive in peace and blissful possession of her mighty patrimony. All her neighbours know that Argentina has no aggressive intentions; it must, therefore, be inferred that our mercurial Transandine neighbour is intent upon checking the growth of this country, and is seeking allies for the purpose, since she is not able for the big task single-handed. The Argentine press has already sounded a note of alarm, and we think rightly so, as it would be absurd to close our eyes to the intriguing that is rampant against Argentina.

Our readers may laugh aloud at these fears of a dual alliance. They may urge that Chile and Brazil have no interests in common—the one is on the Pacific, the other on the Atlantic. They have no trade relations. The idea is absurd. All Brazil's interests lie with Argentina and the Banda Oriental. All this is quite true, and any alliance between Chile and Brazil does sound comical. We have studied the question and fail to find any grounds for such an alliance beyond a wish to keep Argentina in check mutually. But we must not lose sight of the "trait-d'union" between Chile and Brazil in the fact that they are both financed by Rothschild. The Barings—"absit omen"—financed Argentina just as the Rothschilds are now doing with a vengeance Chile and Brazil. Both countries are now in a very bad way, and who knows that this Dual Alliance may not be the upshot of certain fears in financial quarters as to the intentions of Argentina. It is an open secret that the Rothschilds are very hard pressed to keep up Chile and Brazil in the world's market; in Capel Court they say to-day that the Rothschilds have had to bear the brunt of service on the bonds of both countries for the last few years. Such a situation must soon become intolerable, and if Chile has to keep the pace of armed peace with this country the out-look would be black indeed We echo here what is common talk in Capel Court; it does not find its way into the London financial journals, nor is it known in the Plate. But enough has been said to show that there may be some grounds for this comical Dual Alliance.

THE BANCO DE LA NACION.

We have received the Memoria of the Board on the working of the Banco de la Nacion for 1896. The Board evidently believe that brevity is the soul of wit, and the output of the year is squeezed into 22 pages, dry as dust, bristling with figures that require a brown study to classify and compare. The pith of the 22 pages lies in the statement that the Bank is doing well, since the profits of the year amount to nearly $3,000,000 m/n. By law this sum of paper money should be consigned to the furnaces of the Caja de Conversion along with $6,000,000 per annum out of Budget revenue. Alas! we have outlived the sentimentality and the imperial pleasure of watching millions going into smoke on the top of the old Bolsa. Such a policy was too good to last. The millions are not burnt, they go to pay for more iron-clads and army manœuvres. Meantime, the Banco de la Nacion, so maligned when first started, is doing a creditable business under sound management. This Bank is a financial triumph of ex-President Pellegrini, and its successful working and invaluable services to the nation at large laugh to scorn all the opposition of the financial doctrinarians of 1891. Then all the State banks had been most successfully and satisfactorily smashed; Pellegrini and Lopez conceived the idea of raising this Banco de la Nacion from the ashes of the others. By doing so they not only staved off a sharp commercial crisis at the time, but they endowed the nation with an institution that has proved most useful, feeding as it does the republic with its 70 branches, scattered from the Bolivian frontier to the Rio Negro river.

To show the growth of this State bank we have compiled the following figures, which will be read with interest by all bankers and merchants—

Discounts.....	32,450,000	66,361,000
Nat. Bank Liq....	9,600,000	7,000,000
Real Estate of Bk.	2,450,000	3,291,000
Internal Loan....	8,650,000	15,082,000
Deposits gold....	242,000	676,000
" paper...	36,150,000	55,800,000
Judicial deposits gold....	57,000	115,000
" paper...	12,250,000	18,645,000
Cash gold.....	367,000	795,000
" paper.....	16,900,000	36,805,000
Bad Debts.....	475,000	726,000

The above figures speak for themselves and show clearly that the Banco de la Nacion met a great want. Its growth is rapid and steady, and its profits are no negligable quantity in the revenue of the National Government. We need not dwell on the enormous benefit of the Bank's sphere of action in distant parts of the republic, where banking facilities are metaphorical, and credit nil. The drafts of the Bank and its branches in 1896 amounted to 129,000,000$ m/n!

This State bank is a great success; it is all a question of management. As long as the bank does not fall into the hands of a political clique, all will go well—but in this constant danger lies the original sin of all State banks.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

DISCOMFITURE OF THE GREEKS.

The sentimentality of Europe has received a severe shock within the last 48 hours, owing to the discomfiture of the Greek forces, at a moment when all had agreed that Greece should triumph over the "barbarous" Turk. It is significant that the war-correspondents following the Turkish army have called attention to the forbearance and humane feelings of the unruly Bashi-Bazouks. The splendour of unexpected victory has not been stained by atrocities, as we had been led to anticipate by the foolish propaganda of racial and national prejudice. We very much doubt whether the Greeks, intoxicated by victory, would have acted as humanely as their maligned enemy. But these are questions to be decided after the war. In the meantime little Greece has forced itself into a very insecure position. Already the cable records rumors to the effect that King George is desirous of abdicating, that the people are beginning to murmur against the royal family, and the soldiers against their leaders. These are symptoms of decomposition, and nothing but a splendid victory can now arrest the torrent of public feeling.

The town of Larissa is now occupied by the Turks, but the bulk of the army are encamped outside the walls. Several pieces of ordnance were found, for the flight of the Greeks was precipitate. It is related that when Edhem Pasha entered the town he ordered the soldiers to kneel in the public square, and offer up a prayer of thanksgiving. The inhabitants of Larissa complain that the Greek soldiers sacked many houses.

In Constantinople news has been received of a battle near Janina. The Greeks lost 500 killed, and the Turks 124. After the battle the Turks occupied Pentepigrada, from which the Greeks had been brilliantly dislodged.

With regard to the fight at Mati, it would appear that the Greeks held very advantageous positions, but retired in obedience to orders from their General. The troops were highly incensed.

The advance of the Turks seems irresistible. They have forced their way across the Thessalian frontier; they have taken Turnova. They have occupied Larissa, and now they are marching on Volo on the Gulf of the same name, a very important stronghold, connected by rail with Larissa. The Greeks have, however, probably destroyed the railroad. Prince Constantine is massing troops at Volo, which must be defended at any cost. The Greek fleet is riding in the Gulf. The fall of Volo would, of course, bring the campaign to a close.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent)

The removal of the Normal School took place a few days ago to its palatial premises, at Plaza Santa Rosa. We may well call them palatial, and say, with justified pride, that the Rosario Normal School is the finest in South America. The building occupies one square of ground, and its style throughout is severe and handsome—plenty of air and light, plenty of space and comfort.

By the kind invitation of Mrs. Clara Bischoff, the esteemed directress, I visited the establishment and, one by one, the different courses, and I must say I was pleasantly astonished at the discipline, order and method which reign in every department, in every detail, and the mathematical precision with which every item of work is carried out, an "ensemble" which reflects the greatest credit on Mrs. Bischoff, to whom we really owe the organization of our Normal School on a footing which is at par with the best institutions of the kind in the world.

The lady directress is ably seconded by a very competent staff, amongst them several young ladies who are on the eve of finishing their normal course. The idea of this innovation belongs to Mrs. Bischoff, and it is a capital as well as a sensible one, because the young "practicantes," at the same time they carry on their own studies, have the chance in taking charge of the lower degrees, of acquiring practice in the noble duties which they are eventually called to fulfil.

Miss Crosse, the well-known educationist, is again with us as "regente" of the Normal School, Miss Delgade, a distinguished young lady, being the vice-directress.

The total number of pupils at present is 735, and Mrs. Bischoff tells me that the applications are daily increasing.

I may here add that the Minister's notion of making these normal schools mixed is a completely wrong one, and the sooner he discards it the better. Mixed classes in the "kindergarten" degree are well enough, but they ought to go no further, and the experiment has always, and will ever give negative results in these countries where the general code of morals is rather slack.

The banquet given to Senator Anadon on Sunday week was a very brilliant affair and very well attended. The usual run of patriotic speeches was gone through, all tending to lay before the guest the growing development of Rosario, and the necessity of protecting its commerce, giving it the facilities which its growth requires. I had the pleasure of a chat with the Dr., and found him exceptionally well posted and informed as to our requirements in that sense, and the impression left on me is that he is both able and willing to interest himself effectually in favour of the progress and prosperity of the province he so ably represents in Congress.

In my last letter I talked about a slight decrease in our post and telegraph returns for the first quarter of this year, as compared to the first quarter of 1896. This decrease is mainly in the ordinary correspondence, which, owing to bad times, it was but natural, should decrease. The comparative returns have since been made out, showing that the increase in the general receipts for the first three months of this year is $40,765.-82, and that of telegrams sent and received 12,354. Numbers are eloquent, and the above, notwithstanding bad times—exceptionally bad times with us—will undoubtedly make our P. M. G. open his eyes to the urgent necessity of interesting himself more than he has hitherto done in the administration of this district, which is very deficient in many respects, due to the indifference at head-quarters, where the progress and development of Rosario is either wilfully or really ignored.

I hear that our commerce, through the "Centro Comercial," will address the Minister, setting forth the great inconvenience it sustains through the removal of the postal department to the outskirts of the city. I expect the result will be the same as if you were to shout into an "adobe tapial." Nevertheless, the inconvenience is a real one, and all the more aggravating that the change of "locale" answers but to personal interests, without in the least answering those of the community at large. "Toujours la meme chose!"

LADIES LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

Paris, March 27th 1897.

M. Grenier is a doctor who charges no fees, and a Deputy since a few months. Having resided several years in Algiers, he renounced the Catholic religion and became Mussulman. His ostentations manner of praying in the streets of the capital —that no other resident Koranites practice —kissing the ground, and washing his feet in the Seine, several times a day, rapidly made him with the groundlings a social curio. He now has undertaken to convert the French—commencing by the Parisians, to Islamism. This is poaching on the preserves of that poly-creedist, the ex-Père Hyacinthe Loyson. The doctor shirks no difficulties; when the Prophet commenced his mission, he had but three disciples, his wife and mother-in-law included; during seven years he preached as it were in the desert, was hooted and stoned. Yet in due course be raised an army of 100,000 warriors that conquered realms. The doctor's opening lecture was largely composed of ladies who displayed great curiosity in the representation of the to them new religion. Before taking the chair, the doctor saluted the ground; received kisses on the forehead from three Arabs in orthodox costumes; then he threw back a fold of his burnou, readjusted his turban as a lady would her bonnet, displayed his black kid gloved hands; disputed the interpretations of Bible and New Testament by all Churches, claiming the Koran to be the only Book of Life. He confessed, that the Mahommedan paradise, composed of houris and sherbet, was only a pious fraud by the Prophet to catch sensual souls. A good Mussulman, continued the doctor, ought to pray fifteen times a day, and indulge in ablutions if possible as often—cold water is a cure with many. A pilgrimage to Mecca, and holy wars against Infidels were also supreme articles of Islamic belief. He deplored that modern science interfered with the cholera pilgrimages to Mecca; he skipped allusion to the 300,000 massacred Armenian Infidels. He felt certain France was on the high road to Islamism. Then he twisted his turban, kissed the floor, and withdrew to bathe his shins in a bucket of water.

The Mid-Lent Carnival passed off merrily, the day was lovely, and the supply of multicoloured confetti and paper streamers or serpentines, profuse. There were no sad faces: the sick became convalescent; and the convalescents models of health. King Carnival only rules for twenty-four hours; but the masses and the authorites bow to his sovereign will. During the arrival of the Cavalcade, girls and young ladies indulged in bombarding with confetti young gentlemen, and especially any "he-critters" that proved crusty to the tormenting. There were more grown up persons disguised in this fete than on former occasions. Really some of the travesties were costly. The children were got up as Marquises and Marchionesses, as shepherdesses, and Little Red Riding Hoods, regardless of expense. Mid-Lent fete is devoted to the processions of the laundresses and market women. The students join in, so humour, wit, and eccentricity prevailed. There was a bouquet of queens, but the "queen of queens" in white tulle, ermine, and gold tinsel, was paid all the honours. Her Maids of Honour were in tulle toilettes of various shades with plenty of spangled embroidery; they were escorted by lords in waiting, in middle ages costume, and on steeds dating from the time of Cervantes. There were capital "hits" at the celebrities and actualities of the day, harmless fun and frolic. Dr. Grenier was satirized in connection with the Eastern question; he was in card board with other figures on a special chariot; his feet were enormous, of the seven league boots type, and beside them a bath, in which the owner could indulge in his religious dips. The extinct horse was simple skin and bone, impervious to all bad and stranger to all good treatment. It was called "Al Borak" after the Prophet's steed, whose each step represented a space as far as the eye could reach. Dr. Nansen was not forgotten; he was represented making a gift of the North Pole to France, as a new Colony. The Princess Chimay and her Izigan fiddler Rigo, were to the fore also; they were enthroned in a donkey's cart, Rigo was scraping some bars of "Partant pour la Syrie". There was a group of Armenians in different coloured caftans with pikes, surrounded with snakes, "all that remain of us" was their story; the serpents suggested "silence". At midnight card-board King Carnival and his "papier maché" crew were reduced to ashes before the Pantheon in a Balshazzar funeral pile.

CHILIANS AND BRAZILIANS.

ECHOES OF SUNDAY'S MANIFESTATION.

Santiago, 27th—Sunday's manifestation assumed more the character of a national demonstration than a mere manifestation. Over 50,000 people, including army and naval officers, marched past the Brazilian Legation in a compact mass accompanied by all the Societies and bands in the city. The Vice-President of the Prees Association made a most brilliant speech in front of the building of the Brazilian Legation. The Brazilian Minister replied in Portuguese. After this gigantic procession, which lasted far into the night, the Mayor, City Fathers, Senators, Deputies and members of the Press Association called on the Brazilian Minister and invited him to attend a gala performance in the Municipal theatre. The house was simply crammed to excess when the curtain rose, and many who paid for a seat had to remain in the passages, such was the crush. The President of the Republic, his Ministers, General Korner and many officers were to be seen in the theatre. Mr. Eulogio Altamirano made the speech of the evening, in the course of which he stated that the crowning points in the progress of South America would be reached when a railway surmounted the Andes, on the tops of which the representatives of Chile, Argentina and Brazil would proclaim the prosperous state of the continent to the whole world. Mr. Galo Irarrazabal also made a speech, followed by Victor Echaurren Valero. During one of the intervals President Errazuriz visited the Brazilian Minister in his box. The visit was returned a few minutes later. The performance finished at one o'clock in the morning. A procession was again formed, and marched past the Brazilian Legation. The Argentine Minister witnessed the procession from one of the balconies in the Oddo Hotel, and later on called on the Brazilian Minister. The Municipality will to-morrow entertain the Brazilian Minister at a grand banquet in the hall of the Philarmonic Society. Races will take place in the Hippodrome next Sunday in honour of Brazil's Representative. The President of the Republic has promised to attend. The fetes will go on uninterruptedly until next Sunday. The whole Press appears to be seized with the same enthusiasm as the people, and prominent organs devote whole columns in pro of an alliance between Chile and Brazil.

Yesterday's number of La Tarde stated that the fetes in honour of Brazil are not a cause for alarm in the Argentine Republic. The idea of this manifestation was proposed by the Press Association of this city, nor could Government refuse the invitation to take part in it. The same paper states: "The day that two great Republics like Chile and Brazil declare that the peace of South America shall not be disturbed by them and they are determined to keep peace, then Chile will from that day be able to develop her commerce and quietly contribute towards the prosperity of the nation, without spending the greater part of her Revenue in bellicose materials which saps her vitality; that from day armed peace will be for ever banished from the country. That day we shall be able to carry out the ideal of the Captains who fought with Chilian and Argentine soldiers under them, and who stood together at Maipu and Chacabuco, at Ayacucho and Junin.

BATTLE OF THE BEEVES.

COMMERCIAL CONFLICT BETWEEN LIEBIG AND BOVRIL.

Antwerp, 12th March.—Active operations in the battle of the beeves have at length commenced. For three hours yesterday afternoon and three hours this afternoon the Commercial Court here has been engaged in hearing the case Liebig v. Bovril, which is looked upon as of considerable importance in the business world, and it is expected that on Saturday the chosen representatives of the merchants of Antwerp, who constitute the court, will be in possession of all the facts of the case. Just how long it may take them to come to an agreement and deliver judgment it is quite impossible to say, for the case has developed wonderfully. Indeed, as it stands, it is now a battle of extracts and experts.

The action is one brought by Liebig's Extract of Meat Company against the Bovril Company. Liebig asks the court to prohibit Bovril from making any use in Belgium of the name Liebig in any advertisement, whether in newspapers or on posters, or on labels upon bottles. Furthermore, as in these advertisements the Bovril Company states that its fluid of beef contains fifty times more nutriment than Liebig's Extract of Meat, Liebig asks the court to suppress that statement, the accuracy of which the Liebig Company denies. The Liebig Company further claims that, even though the name Liebig be not specially mentioned, any comparison with "extract of meat" must obviously include Liebig, which is one extract of meat. Therefore the court is asked to forbid any comparison of Bovril with "extract of meat", whether "Liebig" be specially mentioned or not.

The serious point at dispute, and the point that has taken up practically the whole time of the court, is the question of the nourishing virtues or defects of the rival foods. The Bovril Company pleads justification, and undertakes to prove the truth of the assertion that Bovril contains fifty times more nutriment than any other extract. When this stand was taken the case became one for analytical experts to settle, and each side has come forward with its depositions. The best-known experts of the world have been approached, and their testimony and analyses are being placed before the three judges, who look far from gratified as they see the advocates sentencing them to perhaps six weeks' hard labour, with nothing more interesting to read than the analysis of the world's scientists. The Liebig Company has put in the testimony of about half a dozen experts, and now the Bovril Company's advocate is engaged in calling the bench's attention to about five times that number. At one stage of the case it seemed as if the inquiry was to be confined to the question of the right of Bovril to compare itself with Liebig directly or indirectly. Had that been done the matter would have been finished long before this, but once expert testimony as to the values of the two extracts was admitted, all hopes of a speedy settlement, as well as all hopes of the decision of the Commercial Court being accepted as final by either party to the dispute, passed away On Saturday all the testimony will have been submitted; then, after some weeks of consideration, the judges will make known their finding, and finally, in all probability, the matter will at once go to the High Court in Brussels, there to have judgment given that will stand, as far as the little great industrial kingdom Belgium is concerned.

DESTRUCTION OF LOCUSTS IN NATAL.

During 1895 and 1896 enormous damage has been done by red locusts in Natal and Cape Colony, etc, sugar-cane, maize and almost all crops being entirely destroyed, the only crops untouched being sweet potatoes and lucerne.

The following means of destroying locusts have been found very successful, and may be found equally useful in the Argentine Republic.

Take 1 lb arsenic, 1 lb caustic soda; boil 4 gals. water, dissolve the soda in it; then add the arsenic, stir well and boil for a few minutes. Do not inhale the fumes. Keep the mixture under lock and key. Take as required half a gal. of it, and add four gals hot or cold water and 10 lbs brown sugar. Dip grass or maize stalks in this, and place anywere that locusts come; or splash liquid on to anything the locusts eat. As the locusts die, others eat them, and in a few days large numbers will be found dead.

Stock eating a piece of wetted grass will not be injured.

Whole swarms of young hopping locusts have been destroyed in this way, after trenching, driving, etc., had been given up. Flying locusts are, of course, less completely destroyed.

Another plan is to mix arsenic with bran, and quite enough molasses or treacle to make it stick together. A little of this, placed near each tree in an orchard, is very efficacious. This method has been tried with success in California.

THE ANGLICAN SCHOOLS.

A meeting, called for the purpose of considering the proposals put forward by the Bishop's Council with regard to the foundations of these schools, was held last night in Prince George's Hall, very nearly 100 ladies and gentlemen being present.

The Right Rev. the Bishop of the Falkland Island in opening the proceedings, said the meeting was called for the purpose of considering the advisability of establishing a school, or schools, on the same basis as the large public schools in England, where religious training formed the basis of the educational course. In the course of his remarks, he said that twenty years since he endeavoured to arouse interest in this same matter. The feeling at home was most hopeful but in arriving here, he found it absolutely nil. He therefore looked upon the present large gathering as a very good sign. The Scotch, the Methodist and other denominations had their schools, and why not the Anglicans.

Mr. J. Zimmermann in moving the first resolution, said there are many schools here, doing remarkably good work, but there is no school properly attached to the Anglican Church. There are plenty of schools for day scholars, but high class boarding schools are sadly needed. Instead of sending our children to England, they should be educated here and taught to be good citizens of the country to which they belong. He moved "That in view of the absence of high class boarding schools for the education of the English speaking children in this country, this meeting is of opinion that immediate action be taken for the establishment of such, on the lines of an English Public School."

The Revd. A. O. Tisdall seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

The Revd. J. Stevenson, in proposing the second resolution, said that religion should be the basis of all education. What was education for, but to fit a man to go through the world. A man could go through the world without reading, writing or arithmetic, but he could not do so without religion. Children especially are very definite creatures. A child puts a plain question and expects a definite answer. To Dr. Arnold, the famous head master of Rugby, it was a "sine qua non" that all education must be founded on religion. Education without religion is a curse and not a blessing. He moved "That any school or schools established in accordance with the foregoing resolution, be under the control of a board of governors who shall be members of the Church of England, and whose care it shall be to see that the moral, mental and physical training of the pupils be properly attended to."

Mr. F.H C. Boutell seconded the motion, and said that there were hundred of parents in the camp who would be only too glad to send their children to such a school.

Mr. Cordner in very few words moved "That a provisional Committee, consisting of the Bishops' Council (with power to add to their number) be, and is hereby appointed, to take steps to give form to these resolutions." This was seconded by the Rev. E. G. Cocks and carried.

In reply to some remarks by Mr. Herbert Gibson of Ajó, Mr. Stevenson said the idea was to form schools for the middle class, and if that were successful, to form National Schools.

The meeting was concluded by a vote of thanks to the chair moved by the Hon. W. A. C. Barrington.

RAILWAY AND OTHER ITEMS.

The Bahia Blanca and North-Western Railway Line is already within four kilometres of Toay. This is good news for estancieros and colonists in the neighbourhood of this rising town.

The Government has cancelled the contract to supply materials and provisions to the Central North Railway, and has authorized the Railway Board to call for new tenders, and, meanwhile, to purchase for its own account whatever may be necessary for the said line.

Every one is talking of the great Radical demonstration made last night in the Chamber by the Radical Deputies who left the House in a body as a protest against the sanction of certain elections which they allege have been carried out by fraudulent means. It is even said that the incensed Deputies meditate resignation "en masse." The Chamber meets tonight but only members of the National and Mitrista parties will assemble. The Radical Senators thoroughly approve of the attitude assumed by their brethren in the Lower Chamber.

Robberies of stock continue. Messrs Ataliva Roca and Bros yesterday lost 209 sheep, of these 14 were subsequently recovered counter-marked in the ear; with 17 lambs freshly marked. Don Bautista Taillade of Bahia Blanca has also been robbed of sheep valued at $900: the thieves cut the wire-fence to effect their purpose.

The Ensenada Railway Company has been authorized to open to public service their branch line to the Central Produce Market in South Barracas, which effects a junction with the Western railway.

Carlos Espinosa and John Stable fought yesterday in Azul. Stable inflicted on his adversary several dangerous stabs, while he himself only suffered a bruise on the head. Both men have been arrested.

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

The telegraph yesterday flashed to us the news of the death in Genoa of Roberto Stagno, the celebrated tenor whose interpretation of Count Almaviva in the immortal Barber of Seville was considered by many critics to have been unsurpassable. But it was not only in this opera that he shone but in many others also. The success of the late tenor's career was not due to his voice but to the way in which he used, and accompanied it, by a masterpiece of acting. Every gesture and look were faultless; he entered body and soul into the role he was singing and always succeeded in bringing salvos of genuine applause from his audience.

He was past master in the art of "bel canto," and when he appeared for the first time in Buenos Aires in the Opera House in 1879, along with Signora Ciuti, Signorina Talia Luc, with Battistini and Miller and Bottesini, we think, in the opera, he eclipsed his great rival Tamagno, singing in the Colon. Well do we remember the musical Porteño world divided into two camps, as in the famous days of tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee. All the girls of Buenos Aires were Tamagnites or Stagnites. It is only fair to say that Tamagno then, with his incomparable voice, was yet a novice in the art. Stagno was superb in Puritani, in Robert the Devil, unrivalled in the Barber. None can forget him as Almaviva singing with Patti as Rosina. He reached the zenith when he came out to the Politeama with Adelina Patti in 1887. The faithful Bellincioni followed him on all his tours. He was the thorough artist gentil homme, and once sang with Queen Margherita at the Italian Court, where he was a great favourite. How beloved the late tenor was in Buenos Aires may be gleaned from the glowing obituaries to his memory in all the papers. His name revives "Saudades" and all the charms of the Bel Canto.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday was another brisk day all round (except in commercial circles, which are still intoning the Lamentations of Jeremiah at the sad state of affairs) and there was plenty of food for talk, on and off 'Change. The "fino amor" business between Chile and Brazil is not relished in some quarters; and some few extremely timorous patriots express a hope that if Admiral Goni's squadron should call at Montevideo on its way from Rio to the West Coast, it may not take such a fancy to the fine Bay there as to indefinitely prolong its stay. The news from poor Greece is very bad, so bad that seditious cries are heard in Athens, and King George may very soon be on the list of Kings out of employment. As for Prince Constantine, he is in disgrace with the people, who will never forgive him for the defeat and destruction of their army after all his bombastic orders of the day and proclamations. The interest of the war now centres at Volo, and if it be taken, the war is over; but it will be a tough job, as the Greek fleet is anchored there to help the garrison. Meanwhile the silly blockade of Crete has been abandoned by England, France and Italy, and all their fleets have gone to the Gulf of Salonica. There ought to be a tremendous fight at Volo.

The dastardly attack on Mr. William Forrester on Monday rather startled the British community yesterday. Mr. Forrester was walking along Calle Venezuela with two little dogs, when the animals were suddenly attacked by others that rushed out of the premises of Messrs. Testa Bros. Mr. Forrester gave one of the aggressors a blow, which brought the two Testas on the scene, and some testy words ensued. One of the brothers gave Mr. Forrester a push, and the latter retorted with a blow of his stick. Testa then drew a revolver and fired, wounding Mr. Forrester in the head, causing profuse bleeding. Mr. Forrester was at once taken to the British Hospital, and we were glad to hear yesterday that he was better. The Testas have been arrested.

The Annual General Meeting of the British and American Benevolent Society was held yesterday at 3 p.m. in the offices of H. B. M. Consul. Mr. Ronald Bridgett occupied the chair, but it was some time before business was taken in hand, as only five gentlemen were present. These gentlemen were: Mr. Ronald Bridgett, Revd. W. P. McLaughlin, F. Carslisle, F. H. Mullhall, Captain Warskitt and the Revd. A. R. Howell, Secretary. The Report for 1896 was read and approved. During the course of his well-timed remarks, Mr Bridgett very rightly stated that the Society had not received all the support that is due to it as a Charitable Institution. No fewer than 948 cases were attended to during the year as compared with 884 in 1895. The Society owes a sum of $2500 lent to it by the British Immigration Society, and is in urgent need of funds to meet this demand. The following members of Committee retired: Messrs. Carlisle, Ham, Humphreys and Mulhall, while Messrs. R. Inglis Runciman, W. Richards R. E. Moore and J. Monteith Drysdale were elected instead. It was left for the new Committee to decide as to the best way in which the deficit could be wiped out, and the Society placed in a position to meet all future demands.

The telegrams from the wrong side of Jordan show that the revolution is fizzling fast, and white roses will soon be out of fashion in Uruguayan buttonholes and bonnets.

We have an idea that the whole town is grinning and tittering at our genial Lord Mayor, who, like Midshipman Easy insists on "arguing the point" with the National Government as to its recent decree ordering him and the City Papas to cease meddling in future with the railway stations in the city.

The Revista Tecnica, edited by Mr. Henri Chanourdie, has reached its third year. It is growing in bulk and is always full of the most interesting matters, embracing all scientific subjects. Its last number has an article on Mendoza drainage by Mr. Nystromer, a detailed study of Acetylene gas, etc. We wish our colleague continued prosperity in its useful sphere.

Active members of the Choral Union are reminded that there remains but one practice previous to the concert on May 3rd. It is, therefore, absolutely necessary for every member taking an active part to attend to-morrow Salon Enfants de Beranger, Tacuari 253, at 8.30 p.m.

Moen's Nuevo Libreria Europea just beats the English Book Exchange by a long nose in the race into our sanctum to supply our bookshelf with the latest literary productions of Old England. The boxes just arrived contain works of all the well-known authors, Gunther, Frankfort, Moore, Clark Russell, Iota, Marie Corelli and Company. There's a treat for our literary subscribers. Gunther's latest, which is said to be one of his best, is Don Belasco of Key West.

The old story again! The Senators did not quorum yesterday. There seems to be small chance of Congress meeting on the 1st of May, as the Constitution prescribes.

Dame rumour says now that Mr. Villanueva is engaged sorting his papers and docketing the last bundles prior to tendering his definite resignation as Minister of War. That feminine busy-body allows Don Guillermo just three days to arrange everything before putting on his hat for the last time in the Red House—for the present at least. Dr. Emilio Civit, Finance Minister in Mendoza and Governor of that Province "in posse," is said to be General Roca's candidate for the post of War Minister.

Whew! Havas lets the cat out of the bag (See telegrams) as regards the state of affairs betweem England and the Transvaal. Colonel Truman and his brother officers, who will be here in a few days in the Danube, are coming to buy horses here not, as was supposed, for the cavalry at home, but for the regiments serving in South Africa. Eight thousand horses is the order, for the cavalry and artillery there; and in case of war with the Transvaal, all the cattle and sheep required for the army will also be purchased in this country. In case of war! The telegram is proof as clear as Holy Writ that Lord Salisbury has decided on it. Now, Oom Paul, put your "barba en remojo."

Heavings! More of it! This licks the tax on bachelors into a cocked hat. And bear in mind, readers, while you screech with laughter over it, that it is published by a London weekly (not our reliable old contemporary The South American Journal) that pretends to be an authority on Argentine affairs:—"The Argentine Congress has passed a Bill to empower the President of the Republic, for the term of one year, to sell by public auction a number of nitrate properties in the province of Tarapaca." This is about the most ferocious politico-geographical blunder as yet perpetrated by the English press in reference to South America. It is worse than the remark of a leading Liverpool paper some years ago to the effect that Cordoba was one of the finest seaports in the Argentine Republic.

The Emperor Menelik has made arrangements with the French Mint for the coinage of a large quantity of silver money for Abyssinia. The coins will be decorated on one side with the effigy of the Negus wearing a triple tiara, surmounted by a Greek cross, and inscribed "John Menelik II., King of Kings of Ethiopia". On the reverse side will be engraved the conquering lion of the tribe of Judah, with the inscription. "Ethiopia holds out the hand to no one but God".

Mrs. Garibaldi, widow of the patriot, has, it is alleged, been granted a pension of £12 a year by the Italian Government. They might also have given her the job of cleaning out the Government offices.

Subscribers to the funds of the British Hospital are especially desired to attend the Annual Meeting to be held to-day at 4 p.m. at Prince Georges' Hall to receive the Report of the Committee for the year 1896, and to consider proposed changes in the Regulations of Management in regard to the Medical Staff, and it is particularly desired that these changes, which have been carefully considered by the present Committee, consisting of Messrs. F. W. Barrow (Chairman), Bridgett, Cordner, J N. Drysdale, John Gibson, Godwin, Hopkins R. A. Thurburn and John C. Zimmermann, &c., should receive the general support of the community.

We had the great pleasure yesterday of a visit from our old and esteemed friend Mr. John Aungier, a prominent member of the London Stock Exchange and Director of South Cordoba and Santa Fé Railway, who has come out in connection with the business of that now prosperous and most promising line. Over a quarter of a century has passed since Mr. Aungier left this country, and he finds this city sometamorphosed during the interval that he hardly recognizes it. It gives him, he says, an impression of "grandeur," the same as the first sight of the great cities of Europe. We are delighted to see our old friend in such excellent health, and hope he will enjoy his stay here.

A wedding recently took place in a western Stirlingshire village. The marriage notice appeared in the newspapers. Subsequently the officiating clergyman received a letter from a Glasgow lady stating that she had noticed the announcement, and wondered if the bride could possibly be her sister, whom she had lost sight of since childhood. Inquiries were made, and her surmise was found to be correct. As was to be expected, a very joyful reunion took place, after a lapse of some sixteen year. This is another instance of the power of the press.

Our French friends here are now patriotically taking up the Bonds that are being issued for their phenomenal Exhibition in Paris in the last year of this century. No great Exhibition as yet held has ever even gone near paying its expenses; but Frenchmen don't mind losing a few francs when "la glorie de la Belle France" is at stake. Besides, there are big money prizes to be drawn with these Bonds, and, no doubt, many foreigners will take some of them for a little gamble.

We find the following interesting paragraph in a London exchange by the R.M.S Magdalena:—"Mr. Brendish. the survivor of the two signallers who, on May 11th, 1857, sent from the Delhi office the famous message warning the Punjab of the outbreak of the Mutiny has just retired from the Indian Telegraph Service, Brendish and his collegue Pilkington were at the moment in charge of the office at Delhi, while Mr. Todd, their chief, had gone out along the line to find out the cause of the interruption of the line between Delhi and Meerut. Mr. Todd, as is well known, was murdered by the mutineers at the bridge of boats across the Jumna river. The operators waited for some hours, and, fearing that something serious had occurred, Brendish, who was quite a lad at the time, went to the instrument and sent the historic message:—"The Sepoys have come in from Meerut, and are burning everything. Mr. Todd is dead, and we hear several Europeans. We must shut up, and now I am off."

The Chambers at Montevideo have now before them a Bill establishing the grades in the navy from Vice-Admiral downwards. Considering that the Uruguayan navy consists of only two miserable little gunboats, the idea of creating Vice and Rear Admirals before there are any ships for them to command is rather putting the cart before the horse, a favourite way of doing things in these latitudes; but the Bill is, no doubt, mainly meant as a device for milking the Treasury. The gallant Captain Risso of the Artigas should be the first Vice Admiral of the Uruguayan Republic.

Fashionable matrimonial intelligence from home: "A marriage has been arranged, and will shortly take place, between Mr. John Hampson, of Bahia Blanca, South America, eldest son of the late John Hampson, of Somersea, Lancashire, and Helen Mabel, eldest daughter of the late General W. Selwood-Hewett, Bombay Staff Corps.

If our London and Parisian friends sometimes wonder at the extraordinary telegrams from Europe published here, we may well retort "Et tu quoque". For the past six months the idiotic news that the Argentine Congress has imposed or intends to impose a tax on bachelors, has been going round the world and has been published and republished a dozen times in all the languages of Europe. No doubt, even the Sultan of Turkey has read it in his morning paper over his pork chops and Volo (vent). The following is the very latest version of the lunatic story, with an amusing addendum:—"The edict of the Argentine Republic that it will impose a heavy tax on every male citizen found unmarried after January I leaves an important point unsettled, says a writer in Pick-Me-Up. What is to become of the man who is "refused?" Is he under an obligation to go his rounds from Angelina to Chloe, and from Chloe to Amaryllis, offering to each in turn his more and more shattered heart? Or will a matrimonial department be set up at Buenos Aires, to pair off hopeless and desperate cases? Our contemporary then proceeds to give us the following:—

"Elsa," he pleaded, "will you marry me?',

She drew herself up to her full height, and scorn flashed from her proud eyes.

"Sir," she said, "I will not marry you! Do you think I have all this time been blind to your real motives in pursuing me with your protestations of love? Do you fancy I have forgotten the Bachelor Tax? You are rich; I am poor. Can you deny that you want to marry me for your money?

He could not deny it. With the look of a beaten hound he slunk out of her presence.

Uncle Paul Kruger is a wise old chappie. To throw oil on the troubled waters between Great Britain and his little republic he has ordered the day of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee to be observed as a general holiday in all parts of the Transvaal. Bravo! Oom Paul! Our Joe will send you a mellifluous telegram of thanks.

The break-up of the 20—year N. G.'s, will commence to-morrow at dawn, so all the boys will have their tired feet under the paternal mahogany on Sunday next; and the "governor" will, no doubt, order a fatted calf to be placed on the board for the joyful occasion.

At a meeting of the London Zoological Society, on March 16th, Dr. W. T. Blandford, F.R.S., Vice-President, in the chair, Mr. A. Smith Woodward gave an account of his recent palaeontological tour in Brazil and Argentina, and made remarks on the vertebrated animals that had come under his observation in those countries.

ON 'CHANGE.

Tuesday, April 27th, 1897.
Gold Premium

FIRST RING..... 199.20
SECOND RING..... 198.00

Things on'Change to-day were unutterably dull, diametrically the reverse of yesterday, when mines were exploding all along the line, sorties and charges, flank movements and massing of forces the order of the day. Yesterday was a field day right through; to-day was not, being a kind of campaign Sabbath with just enough doing to show that the war still holds on. The bears have, however, obtained the upper hand, since they have forced the bulls over the Rubicon and shattered all hopes of a liquidation at 310, which was the bullish aim and expectation, and as the liquidation is now practically at hand, there can be no marked change in positions till it is over. Thus the situation for the moment is very clearly defined, and the problem the lines of the speculation for May. The bulls are, of course, very confident that the rise must come off then, and if delayed, the longer the delay the sterner the rise, but after all, what is there about May that it should bring about financial horror. The service of the debt is already in Eurepe, commercial requirements not likely to be any heavier than last month, and as a disconsolate bull remarked to-day for the life of him he could not see what difference there could be between April and May, except the extra day. April, to his thinking, should have seen gold at 320, but it has not, and he has lost heart altogether. That is just how matters stand. Nobody can grasp really the working of the market or trace the causes. Conviction points to gold in the ascendant, and actual perception to decline. What can be made out of such a tangle? Meantime, in spite of rumours afloat of a heavy sale of Morgan Bonds in London, and appropriation by Government of the prospective profits of the Banco de la Nacion for this year, prices keep low, which shews that fanning the bullish flame is waste of breath. There has been no sale of Morgan Bonds; but the Government, as authorized by the Budget, has already taken from the Bank $500,000 on account of its profits for this year.

Business in gold at the first hour was very quiet, and though maintained on firm lines, there was no spurting tendency, the price opening at 298, advancing to 299¼ and closing at 299.20. For end of month transactions were very brisk, though there was no pass, so that the speculation may be counted as liquidated, whilst for May less than two points was paid. In stocks Catalinas were quiet at 7.30, and some National F's were done at 85 to 85.50. Some Spanish Banks were realized at 128 and Constructor Obligations at 7.80. The market continues depressed for all descriptions.

$ 227,000 cash at 298-298.50-299-298.50-80-50-80-299-299.50-299-299--20-299-298.80-50-80-296-299--50-30-299.20.

The reappearance of Constructors on the share board is undoubtedly due to the move of a number of shareholders who have signed a petition to the liquidating committee to call an extraordinary general meeting, with the "menu" for discussion:—

1st. Presentation of report and balance sheet.

3rd. Measures the committee has in view for liquidation of concern.

4th. Election of members to fill vacancies on committee.

At the preparatory meeting of shareholders at which the petition was resolved upon there were over 40,000 shares represented. We are in a position to state that the committee will put no obstacle in the way, and that the report they have already prepared to present at the meeting is a most favourable one, that it is to say comparatively speaking, as the shares of a concern nominally worth $100 and quoted at $3, cannot betoken a high grade of prosperity.

Our German correspondent, Mr. E. Schroeder, was welcomed back to-day after a fortnight's trip in the south of the province. He speaks very favourably of the splendid management of the Southern Railway, everything moving like clock work, and A1 accommodation, and regrets he could not have stopped longer away, as a fortnight was too short to see a tithe of what there is to be seen even in the South alone. He visited Mar del Plata, Tandil and Bahia Blanca, where he interviewed Mr. Harding Green, manager of the Bahia Blanca and North Western railway, and then sped back again to Curumalan where he had a very pleasant time. Mr Miles Pasmann, president of the Curamalan Company, who was there at the time, has also arrived up. In our next issue we purpose giving a detailed chapter of our German Correspondent's "jotttngs by the way". It will be seen therein that in spite of the frequent rains, the South is dry, which confirms the report of the Bolsa King after his Holy Week trip.

In answer to an appeal of holders of bonds of the various provincial (Argentine) loans the two leading issuing firms sent the following replies:—

"Province of B. Ayres Loan, 1882-86.
"March 12th, 1897.

"Gentlemen,—In reply to your letter of yesterday, we beg to say that onr representative in B. Ayres has, from 1891, been constantly engaged in negotiations with the Provincial Government as to this loan, acting in conjunction with the gentlemen who represent the Ensenada and German Loans. A scheme for the arrangement of the provincial loans was obtained from the Provincial Government in 1893: but this scheme fell through.

"Arrangements were afterwards made for the inclusion of the Provincial Loans in the scheme for the consolidation of the National Debt proposed by Dr. Romero Since Dr. Romero's resignation, negotiations have been continued with the Provincial Government, and they have applied to the National Government with the view of arranging for a payment to the creditors of the Province of B. Ayres in National Bonds. This arrangement seems to be the best that is practicable. and is still under the consideration of the National Government. We regret very much the inconvenience that is caused by the drawings. We are, however, advised that we have no choice in the matter, but are bound to go on with them. In one case where we delayed a drawing we immediately received a protest from some of the parties interested. We regret that in the present stage of the negotiations it is impossible to say what special arrangements can be made as to the drawn bonds.—We are, gentlemen, yours faithfully,

(Signed) "Baring Brothers & Co."

The following reply was received, in answer to the appeal referred to, from Messrs Morton, Rose & Co.:—

"Gentlemen,—We have to acknowledge receipt of your favour of the 12th inst., asking for information as to the prospects of resumption of payment of interest on the Santa Fé and Cordoba Provincial Loans of the Argentine Republic. We need hardly say that we are only too glad at all times either to supply personally information, or to answer any inquiries as to the position of our negotiations; but,as they change almost from day to day, it has been very difficult for us to make any public announcement.

"Santa Fé Loans of 1883 and 1888.—The agreement adopted by the bondholders at their meeting on January 4, 1895, required, as you are aware, ratification by Congress, which, up to the present, has not been obtained. The delay has been caused almost entirely by the unwillingness of Dr. Romero to pass any measure that might commit the National Government, or make them responsible for any external loans of the provinces. In spite of the continuous efforts of our representatives it was impossible to get our contract submitted to Congress for ratification. Since the retirement of Dr. Romero we have more confidence in obtaining an early settlement; in fact, we understand that our contract for the settlement of the Santa Fé loans will be one of the earliest measures passed on the reassembling of Congress in May. Mr. C. H. Sandford, who has been working assiduously in the interests of the bondholders. returns the first week in April to Buenos Ayres, in order to be present at the carrying out of the details on the reassembly of Congress, and we have every hope of being able to advise before long that we have concluded a definitive contract on behalf of the bondholders on the terms agreed to by them in January, 1895.

"Cordova Loans of 1886 and 1888.—Some progress has been made towards a settlement of these loans on the basis of obtaining from the National Government their four per cent. bonds. The amount which we are endeavouring to obtain on behalf of the bondholders is from $11,000,000 to $13.000,000, and Messrs. O. Bemberg & Co., who are acting for the bondholders in this matter, are hopeful of obtaining a settlement on this basis during the next session of Congress.

"We shall, at all times, be pleased to answer any inquiries, and can assure you that we have no intention of relaxing our efforts, and will continue to do everything in our power to promote an early settlement of these unfortunate loans.

"We remain, gentlemen,
"your obedient servants,
"(Signed) Morton Rose & C.

"Princes Street, March 15, 1897."

The eleventh annual general meeting of the Buenos Ayres and Belgrano Tramways was held on March 24 at the offices, Moorgate Street, under the presidency of Mr. John Morris, who said that in summarising the position of the revenue account it would be seen that, after payment of debenture interest, which required 9,600*l.*, and the municipal tax of 6 per cent., which came to 2,817*l.*, they were able to show, after charging revenue account with other interest and income tax, and adding 1,500*l.* to the renewals fund, a balance of 3,483*l.*, representing the net profit for the year 1896. That balance had been carried to net revenue account, and, with the amount of 2,278*l.* already at the credit of that account, made a total of 5,762*l.* They had suffered very severely from the extra municipal taxation and restrictions to which they were subjected, and more particularly in regard to the latest restriction as to the number of passengers that they might carry per car. In consequence of the reduction that the municipality had insisted upon in the number carried, the company had been compelled to incur a very large expense for additional cars and horses, and, although in the morning and evening there was a very good amount of traffic to fill those cars, they had to run them practically empty in the middle of the day, and that entailed a serious loss. The board had had for some considerable time under consideration the question of giving some improved form of traction, which would enable them to cultivate the traffic outside the town and to give a more rapid service and to work the line more economically than they now did. They proposed to ask the meeting to appoint a committee that day for the immediate consideration of that matter, because at the present time the competition in regard to locomotion in Buenos Ayres was very keen. They could readily work the four miles outside the City of Belgrano by a quicker service, and the narrow streets inside the city could be avoided by a detour. They had been keeping up a correspondence on the subject with the authorities by cable during the last two or three weeks, which had, unfortunately, been somewhat interfered with by the death, on March 6, of Mr. J. B. Wanklyn. They were informed by latest cable advices received that the matter would remain open for the company to make application for two days longer, and under those circumstances the committee, if appointed, would need to arrive at a decision by March 26 as to whether or not any step should be taken in the matter. He concluded by moving the adoption of the report and accounts, which was seconded by Mr. A. J. FitzHugh, and carried.

Mr. C. Carrington presided at the thirty-fourth ordinary meeting of the British Bank of South America, on March 26th. Shareholders no doubt share his regret for the very unsatisfactory and disappointing condition of affairs. Mr. Carrington said that it was not until the last three or four months of the year that they had any idea of the heavy loss that was about to fall upon the bank. When they closed the half-year's accounts on 30th June they had every reason to anticipate a prosperous year. The promise was such as to induce them to pay in September the usual dividend of 4 per cent., absorbing £20,000, and to add nearly £30,000 to the £20,000 brought forward. However, all the profit was swept away during the last six months ot the year. That unsatisfactory result was mainly brought about by losses on exchange in Brazil. The loss occurred in the Rio de Janeiro branch, where the manager, notwithstanding repeated instructions and frequent warnings from the board, allowed himself to be led away by over-confidence in the exchange brokers, and the conviction that he and others entertained that in consequence of the very large crop ot coffee a rise in the exchange was inevitable. The brokers sold bills which they had not got,and when the time came for the delivery of the bills the brokers were unable to deliver them, the consequence being that the bank had to go into the market and buy the necessary bills at a largeloss. It the manager had attended to the instructions sent from London, the loss would never have been made, and the manager was now on his way to England, at the request of the board, to explain his conduct. In making up the accounts full provision had been made for any bad debts or losses, and the accounts accurately showed the bank's position. After providing for all liabilities the capital was intact, and the reserve of £350,000, less the £39,549 required to make up the loss by the fall in exchange on that portion of their capital employed in Brazil, was also intact; and those two sums were sufficient to pay for every share on which £10 or £15 had been paid. The withdrawal of £50,000 from the reserve to enable the payment of the usual dividend was only determined on after much consideration, and that fund was consequently reduced to £300,000.

There is a growing interest in the islands of the Paraná Delta, especially on the further side of the Parana de las Palmas. A prominent doctor has just bought a fine island for $6000, having 13 squares frontage on a large navigable river, with 800 metres depth. Another sale is reported of 6 squares at $2000 and several other transactions, of whose details we are not informed, Few people know about this great area of undeveloped territory at the very doors of the metropolis.

City of Buenos Aires Tramway Company.—A balance dividend is recommended of 3s. 9d. upon the fully-paid shares, 1s. 6d. upon the shares of the 8th issue, and the sum of £5,000 placed to the reserve fund. This will leave £2,591 to be carried forward.

Buenos Aires and Rosario Railway.—Balance dividends are declared on the Preference and Sunchales shares at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum. After payment of interest on debenture stocks and these dividends, there remains an available balance of £113,987, out of which the board propose to place the sum of £10,000 to the credit of maintenance, renewal, and casualty fund,and to recommend a balance dividend at the rate of 4 per cent., per annum on the ordinary stock, making, with the interim dividend, 3 per cent. for the past year, and leaving a balance to be carried forward of £18.881.

Another most successful trial of the "Stempel Fire-Extinguisher" took place yesterday in the Avenida de Mayo, between Lima and Salta. A very large wooden erection was put up, kerosened and set on fire. On accoun of the size of the structure, the fire did not spread as rapidly as the exponents could have wished, but, by dint of kerosene, a most respectable, crackling fire was produced, and immediately extinguished with only one apparatus. A second trial was given with still more kerosene and combustible matter, but, as is always the case with this apparatus, it proved very difficult to re-ignite a structure which had once been touched with the liquid from the extinguisher. However, by constantly dousing the fire with kerosene another and still fiercer fire was obtained, to be put out, as usual, with the greatest facility Two other trials, without fire were made, to prove the strength and ejective powers of this comparatively small apparatus, all the spectators, who were numerous, retiring extremely satisfied. The result of this trial has encouraged the representatives to give trials every fortnight. In this case Mr. de Grys himself acted as "bombero."

Messrs, Cassels and Co., our neighbours, first turn to the right, have been named agents in the Plate for the famed Lipton's teas. The agency could not be in better hands.

The commercial agony list continues to grow, though the additions to-day were only a brace of one-horse almacens, the total liabilities of which would fit handsomely into 10,000. A note of interest, however, from the bankruptcy court is the news that Messrs. Zemborain have advised the payment of their Spinetto credit in full; the amount was only some $6,000 odd gold, but as the firm (Zemborain) would not accept a composition, the Judge made a decree of bankruptcy, which will now be raised. The other creditors, it seems, paid the amount to get over the difficulty that a forced liquidation would entail.

The news during the afternoon that the market had been swept clean of bills was looked upon as premonitory of a rally in gold; exchange down meant gold up, so people thought at least, and they were wrong again, as instead of advancing, the prices slackened off and closed palpably weak, a curious coincidence. The result is that as nobody can understand the situation; there is an undercurrent of an easiness, which becomes more accentuated as gold breaks. The total of the sales ran short of the half million, but there were sellers for all dates and few buyers, which was reflected in a drop to 298, at which the price left off weak. In stocks there was no movement to speak of beyond a revival of the Constructors, the shares being done at 3 and the Obligations at 8.20% or say 82 cents each. Catalinas were quiet.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the second ring:—

As regards the Municipal indebtedness, Dr. Alcobendas is now floating on untroubled waters, as the great bulk of the creditors have accepted the bonds at 90%, which relieves the pressure. There are still some non-conients to appease, but his mayorship is sanguine that a little heel-cooling waiting a settlement will educate them up to the level of the old proverb about a bird in the hand being better than two out of reach, whilst as there is a surplus over, the paving work will be set in full swing again. The watering of the Municipal credit has at all events relieved the strain.

Consignees report a very quiet market, fair sales but no great stir, as it seems that holders of both wheat and maize are not in a hurry to let go, in the expectation of prices hardening. Wools are dull too and shew no signs of improving. The sales to-day embraced:
